INTRODUCTION

For 23 years, the Agency of the Year awards have celebrated the achievements of the region's advertising industry, recognising strong leadership, creativity and innovation, stellar new business performance, the development of talent in the region, and contribution to the industry.

The aim of these awards is to reward the industry top performers in Greater China. They are designed to allow agencies – big or small – and talent to shine within the local market and region, with the opportunity of network recognition at an Asia-Pacific level.

We have made a few changes to the entry criteria and entry template this year, so please ensure you read the entry kit carefully. Note, that your written submission must be no more than 10 single-sided pages in any specified category and must be endorsed and signed off by your management on your written submission.

There will be country awards for Creative Agency of the Year, Media Agency of the Year and Digital Agency of the Year, and region awards in the remaining categories. There are nine people categories to celebrate individual achievements and contributions. In the agency categories, judges may award a Gold, Silver and Bronze, while only a winner and runner-up will be announced in the people categories.

The judging panel will comprise of senior marketers from key business categories. In our commitment to transparency, PricewaterhouseCoopers will tabulate the results of the awards.

Only achievements relating to the period of October 1, 2015 to October 5, 2016 will be evaluated by the judges.

If you believe your agency and people have a story to share and celebrate, please send us your submissions.
Good luck!
